Let Us Not Forget China's Long War

On July 7, China will observe the sixth anniversary of the invasion of Chinese soil by Japan, and on that day the heroic Chinese people will take up the burden of their seventh year of war.

Many countries in the orbit of war have known destruction and death, but in paying just tribute to our ally this July 7, we must remember that China, who has been fighting the longest, has been suffering the longest.

The past year was the worst she has known in her long, almost single-handed, fight against Japan. Blockaded on the east and on the south, she has had few weapons with which to fight an enemy stronger in resources than ever before.

China was able to conclude her sixth year with a military victory, achieved partly with American air assistance. Without this help, China—already weakened—might have lost her vast food producing areas, and further disaster unpleasant to contemplate might have resulted.

China fights on, but her situation is still critical. We must give her more help for her seventh year of resistance, which will be a crucial one.

To China, first to fight, our friendship!

J. W. Ezell,
Local Chairman for China Relief

Mrs. E. M. Wilson and Mrs. Dick Moore are assisting Mr. Ezell in raising funds for China relief. They hope to have a good report by July 15. Let's remember China has already been fighting a cruel enemy for six long years, and every penny we can give to them helps relieve some kind of human misery. Be ready when you are asked for a small donation.

The First BAPTIST CHURCH

The moral laws are deeply embedded in the constitution of things. You cannot break them, but you can break yourselves upon them. It is a law of God that the Sabbath be preserved for His worship. You can't break this law, but you can break yourself by refusing to receive the benefits a wisely spent Sabbath brings.

The First Baptist church extends you a hearty welcome to attend all services this coming Lord's Day. The Sunday school, beginning at 10:00 A. M., offers you the glorious opportunity of studying God's Word with your friends and neighbors; the training union, meeting at 7:45, offers the opportunity for training for service; the worship services, at 11 A. M. and 8:45 P. M., provide a spiritual atmosphere for worship, and an opportunity to hear the preached Word. "It pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe." 1 Corinthians 1:21.

H. E. East, Pastor

Processed Foods—Blue Stamps K, L, M, expire July 7. Blue Stamps N, P, and Q valid from July 1 to August 7, inclusive.

Pick Up Gas Application Forms

Application forms to renew present A and D gasoline rations are available at places announced by local ration boards. OPA urges car and motorcycle owners to pick up copies of the application and mail them to their ration board immediately. Present A books expire July 21st.

Certificate For Slaughtering

A livestock owner who buys custom slaughtering must, after July 1, sign a certificate giving his address, the slaughter permit number, the kind and number of livestock killed and the total dressed and live weight. This certificate must also be signed by the custom slaughterer.

Christmas Packages for Soldiers

Christmas packages may be mailed to American soldiers overseas without a request from the soldier, from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15. The packages must be no more than five pounds in weight, fifteen inches in length, and thirty-six inches in length and girth combined. They should be marked "Christmas gift parcel". Only one such package will be accepted for mailing by or on behalf of the same person or concern to or for the same addressee during any one week.

Cadet Nurse Corps Organized

Newest of the Women's uniformed groups is the United States Cadet Nurse Corps, set up to revive young women's interest in enlistment as student nurses. The Bolton Act, signed by President Roosevelt June 15, will provide student nurses with a distinctive uniform and insignia. Also, this legislation permits the government to give accredited institutions the funds to pay room, board, tuition, and fees for nurse trainees, and to give them a stipend of $15 a month for the first nine months of training, with a gradual increase.

Cannot Raise Battery Prices

Complaints have reached OPA from various parts of the country that farm radio batteries which retailed for $5 to $7, lately—because of scarcity—have been selling for $10 to $14 each. Retail prices on batteries are "frozen" under the general maximum price regulation at the March 1942 level of the individual dealer. OPA encourages farmers to report any overcharge.

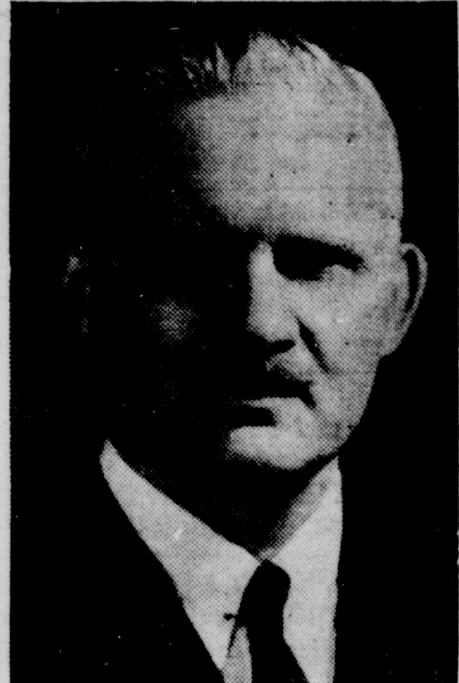

Clothing Prices Stabilized

Women's, girls', and children's fall dresses, suits, coats, blouses and similar apparel will cost approximately the same as last year, as a result of a revised maximum price regulation for manufacturers issued recently by the OPA.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Raney, Mrs. J. H. Fitzgerald and Mrs. C. W. Gold went to Lubbock to spend Sunday and Monday to attend a Beauty Show and to learn more about the "Cold Permanent Waves."

City Marshal Ray Huling and family returned Tuesday from Corpus Christi where they spent two weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Huling. They met the soldier boy Corpl. Odus Huling from the Hondo Field in San Antonio.

Texas Rubber Man

One of the top executives of the B. F. Goodrich company, builder and operator of two huge government synthetic rubber plants in Texas, is vice-president George W. Vaught, a Lone Star native. He was born in Palestine, Texas, and is owner of the T-Ancor Ranch, near Medina. He is a director of Lone Star Defense corporation, a B. F. Goodrich subsidiary, which operates one of the largest bomb and shell-loading plants in the government program at Texarkana.

Urged Synthetics

One of the most insistent pre-Pearl Harbor advocates of a national synthetic rubber program, as a form of "national defense insurance," was John L. Collyer, since 1939 president of the B. F. Goodrich company. A 13-year term of service in Europe and Asia with the largest British Empire rubber concern (Dunlop) had given Collyer unusual insight into the international complexities of the rubber industry. He is a native of New York state and was a star athlete at Cornell.

Roping Sunday

Starting at 5:30 P. M. Sunday, a "Jack Pot" roping contest will attract many to the grounds west of the Grammar School.

Ten ropers will come in from the Stamford district and some are coming from Rotan. Everybody is invited—no fees, no charges to see. See it and like it.

July Is The Month to Transfer Scholastics

It is now time to transfer pupils from one school to another, and the date for transferring will expire during the month of July.

1. All students, whose grades are not taught in their home school and who expect to attend school elsewhere, should make application to transfer during the month of July.

2. If a child's grade is taught in his home school, the parent of such child may make application to transfer. In case the application is approved the parent of such pupil will be responsible for the pupil's transportation for the entire year, and for the pupil's tuition, after the free time allowed for transfer has expired, which will not likely be more than 4 or 5 months.

3. High school students, whose grades are not taught in their home district and who expect to attend an accredited Jones County High school, should by all means be transferred during the month of July.

4. There is no such thing as an automatic transfer. The only way to transfer is by written application made by the parent or guardian of the pupil. This should be done each year until the pupil has finished the High school of his choice.

A strict compliance with the four propositions listed above will eliminate practically all the undesirable features in connection with the transfer of scholastics.

B. T. Beaver, County Supt.

Miss Janie May Johnson is at home from her school work in Sioux Falls, S. D., for the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Johnson.

After a visit through various parts of Old Mexico, and Los Angeles, such places as the Rose Bowl, Coliseum, Forest Lawn, and the bright spots in Hollywood, Bill says that the West Coast isn't half bad.

Miss Pauline Young, a nurse of the Bryan Memorial Hospital at Lincoln, Nebraska, came home on Thursday of last week to spend her vacation at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Young. Miss Young is one of the prominent nurses of Nebraska.

James Nicholson, student of the State Teachers College at Denton, came up for the week end at home. James was billed to go into the Navy July 1st, but he lacks only one month getting his diploma and the government is giving him time out—then the Navy, somewhere.

THIS WEEK

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT

This

AND A LITTLE BIT OF THAT

—"Quotes" from recent governors' convention in Columbus, Ohio: . . . "At the starch-bosom banquet Dewey was the only man appearing in a business suit. . . Ambassador Davies made a good speech at the dinner, but the most talked-of incident was the fact that when he mentioned Roosevelt's name as commander-in-chief, you could have heard a pin drop. There was not one ripple of applause. . . I felt like yelling Heil to see if they would all stand up," remarked a waiter. . . Some Bricker leaders claim that the Taft boys are secretly backing Dewey now in order to block Bricker—thus creating a deadlock from which Taft would emerge as the nominee. They say it is a favorite Taft trick to put a rival candidate out in front early, then let the politicians take pot-shots at him."

—Such reports as the above show that the big league boys are thinking more of their own political hides than they are of winning the war. . . instead of boosting "The Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy."

—We notice this: that when the nation gets into a bad way the press, especially the free small papers, always steady the boat, and there are lots of people trying to shake the boat these days. Smart guys!

—The Fourth of July has come and gone again. The struggle to maintain freedom now is as great as it was 167 years ago. We do not mean within our own country, yet from the expressions and rantings of some we would be led to believe that a great war can be waged on normal methods. In war, power must be delegated and the more the better, but some are yelling "bureaucracy!" Good government in a democracy must have governing machinery and it must be run by mere men who are made up with just plain old human shortcomings. Don't get "skeered" buddy, when this war is over a lot of present-day demands, commands and restrictions will be done away with. You can't "skeer" the people by continually yelling "wolf, wolf."

—Perhaps more than a year ago this paper voiced the sentiment that the soldiers of World War II would not fit in with the American Legion set-up of World War I. This is a new age, a new generation, a new war and a far different organization than that of 1917-18. The men and women of the present day armed forces will have to solve new and difficult problems, will have to think, strive and vote and fight a continuing battle in the civil life just ahead—they must organize for themselves.

Responsibility—

It is a grave thing to accept responsibility in a government in time of war, in time of stress, in time of adversity.

It is a patriotic thing to do, when authority granted to a person to serve his nation as its head and as its mouthpiece, to appoint men and women to assist in carrying out the wishes and demands of the Congress.

There are several angles to every government job. One must serve within specific fields set out by the law enacted by Congress, or by the rules and regulations as set up by the head of a department acting under the law. That angle is the last the public ever understands. Then there is the angle where the general public wants this and that done, something done but not if it hurts "ME". Then there is where the trouble starts, and the "paths" of glory lead but to the grave.

It is the path of "glory" that prompts that fine son of yours or your neighbors to risk his life trying to show his comrades that he is willing, anxious and not afraid, to wade into the enemy and down him at the risk of his own life. Not many desire to occupy a hero's grave. That's what we Americans dislike about the Japs...he hopes all his life on earth to die a hero...and that's why our task is so hard in the Pacific. But our boys accept the risk and maybe will get to enjoy some of the grand "glory" if they live to return to this land of "responsibility in the face of death"...where so often the sights of the people are blinded by "glory" for themselves.

If you were to jot down the greatest task confronting this nation, wonder if it would be—Whip the enemy? No that is not it. But it is the first thing we've got to do. Many people living now do not remember the days of the last war, when wages and prices went sky high; when only the richer could get it and pay the price...the greatest problem, we think, that this nation now faces is the rising cost of living. There is only one way to hold the price structure down...hard-headed control...control if it takes the army and navy to do it...that's what the folks are kicking about, that's what the President is trying to do...control the upping cost of things, and unless the President gets more help than he has received the last few weeks, the home front is going to get out of control because of price control or the lack of it.

It is so easy for those who can't see ahead to kick and hinder. It is dangerous to say "to heck with the other fellow, I'll get by"...that is what caused the great depression, and that's what we must head off in the immediate future...it does matter how the other fellow gets by. So it is somebody's responsibility to stand up and hold back the raging high cost of things...yet there is not a sensible man or woman in this land who wants anybody to work and toil for nothing, or less than they can stand up under...this means wages as well as corn, wheat or cabbage...so if we do not get behind the President in his efforts to hold down prices, first thing you know, somebody will go hungry and without enough clothing and it will matter how you get along when others can't go.

The Herald believes in placing responsibility, placing it so hard in governmental business till anyone failing to do his duty, the punishment should be equal or harder than if he had committed murder or something as bad. There is no soft place in government, and there is but little glory...the higher a man is applauded the harder he will fall....it takes plenty of guts to fight for one's country and occupy a hero's grave, and equally as much in civil responsibilities.

Sympathy—

There are so many angles of this world war that brings the deepest of sympathy for our friends and neighbors, and one of the most touching part of all the sadness is to learn that a boy has died in a prison camp. We especially desire this week to sympathize with Editor Frank Grimes of the Abilene Reporter-News in the news of the death of his son, Capt. Rudyard K. Grimes who was reported as dying in a Japanese camp, June 30th. He was taken a prisoner at the fall of Corregidor. And let us further bear in mind that there are several parents of this section of Texas who have sons who are held as prisoners by the Japs. They need our sympathy almost as much as if death had taken their boys. Yes, folks, it is an hour when sympathy is due. It will help but can not suffice for the loss.

Miss Geraldine Callicoatte spent the past week end visiting her sister Mrs. Paul Lewis, Jr., in San Angelo. It begins to look like this is one of Hamlin's teachers who is inclined to favor the Air Corps, and it is difficult now to tell just what part she prefers—maybe it's the pilot.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate May went down to visit their son, Pvt. James Tate

May at Camp Maxey near Paris the past week end. They had to drop back to Sherman for hotel accommodations. The young soldier is doing fine, they say.

MISS WILLIAMS AND LIEUT. TURNER WED IN HOME CEREMONY SUNDAY

(From The Walters (Okla.) Herald)

In an impressive ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, wedding vows were read for Miss Margaret Williams and Lieut. J. C. Turner, of Fort Sill, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Williams, Walters, and Lieut. Turner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Turner, of Hamlin, Texas.

To form a setting for the all-white wedding, pedestal baskets of Picardy gladioli, combined with Boston and plumosus fern, decorated the altar and on the piano was a low bowl of shasta daisies.

The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. R. O. Callahan, pastor of the Walters Methodist church.

A prelude of music was presented by Miss Geneva and Miss Estelle Guest, who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Miss Helen Boilott, Lawton, accompanist, also played the traditional Bridal chorus from "Lohengrin."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white tailored knit suit. The front of the coat was fashioned of the same material with a pin stripe of lime green. Her hat of lime green chenille, was in the shape of a square and three feathers, shading from green to a pale pink, curled around the front of the brim and the veil was of pale pink. Her other accessories were white and she carried a white Bible, showered with two white orchids and ribbon streamers.

For something old, she wore a bracelet 150 years old, that had belonged to Mr. Williams' great great grandmother. Her something borrowed was a white lace-bordered handkerchief, belonging to Mrs. George Smith, of Frederick.

Miss Vaughn Nell Todd, maid of honor, wore a pink summer wool frock with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Lieut. Turner had as best man, his cousin, G. W. Turner, also of Hamlin.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Williams wore a black sheer dress, and Mrs. Turner's frock was of navy blue sheer. Their corsages were of red rosebuds.

Following the exchange of vows, a reception was held with decorations carrying out the patriotic motif. The bride's table was centered with a white bowl of red and white gladioli on a blue mirror base. Shasta daisies and fern encircled the punch bowl at one end of the table and the wedding cake at the other end. The cake was in three tiers and was topped with a miniature army officer and his bride under an arch of orange blossoms.

After the bride had cut the first piece of cake, Miss Todd served and Miss Lois West presided at the punch bowl. In charge of the guest book was Miss Mary Ruth Gaines, Duncan.

For going away, Mrs. Turner wore her three-piece wedding suit with the longer coat. The lime green striped material was repeated in the lapels and down the front of the coat. Her corsage was of orchids.

After a 15-days honeymoon trip to Eagle Nest Lake and other New Mexico points, the couple will establish a home in Lawton.

Mrs. Turner was graduated from Walters High school in 1939 and attended the University of Oklahoma, Norman, where she was a member of Delta Gamma sorority. She later attended business college in Duncan and was employed at the Farm Security office there. Since September, she has been employed in the area engineer office at Fort Sill.

Lieut. Turner was graduated from Hamlin High school in 1935 after which he entered Baylor University, Waco, Texas, where he was a member of the Baylor Chamber of Commerce and the law Forum Society. He received his LL.B. degree from that university and was practicing law in his home town when he entered the service.

Guests present for the wedding included the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Turner and his cousin, G. W. Turner and wife of Hamlin; Mrs. Mary Emma Smith and daughter Miss Beulah Ann Smith, Lawton; Mr. and Mrs. John Miller and Mary Lou and Johnnie; Mr. and Mrs. Eric Miller and son, Eric; Mrs. Marion Miller, Mrs. Mary E. Patterson and Miss Gaines, all of Duncan; Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Baldwin, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Frederick; Miss West, of Lawton; Mrs. G. S. Sanders, of Weatherford, W. H. Sherin, Mrs. J. K. Beauchamp and Miss Wanda Burnett, Oklahoma City; Lieut. and Mrs. Robert E. Goff, Capt. and Mrs. James B. Spencer and Lieut. Echarde E. Spitzer, all of Fort Sill; Mrs. Callahan, Mrs. C. K. Sherin, Mrs. Edgar Otis, Mrs. W. S. Weir and Mrs. Byron Gardner and son, Gary.

Lieut. and Mrs. Turner arrived in Hamlin late Saturday night and remained till late Wednesday. He will resume his duties in Fort Sill Monday, July 12th.

Sophia

Mrs. Kimball and Mrs. Worthington, dressed soberly and wearing their best black gloves, walked along the stony country road back toward Sophia Hardy's farm, to pay their visit of condolence.

"How do you reckon she'll be bearing up?" Mrs. Kimball asked Mrs. Worthington. Both ladies wore their most solemn, funereal expressions.

"A mighty severe blow," Mrs. Worthington said. "Mighty severe. To lose your only son, the mainstay of your declining years. And such a dreadful death, too—to go down with a ship. Mercy!"

"The first of our boys from Hand County to go, too," Mrs. Kimball said, mournfully.

"I wouldn't blame Sophia Hardy for feeling right bitter."

They stood on the simple stone doorstep, with downcast eyes, getting themselves into the proper commiserative mood.

"Come in!" The voice was brisk and cordial. They looked up in surprise. Sophia herself had come to the door. As they followed her into the parlor they exchanged glances, with eyebrows lifted. Sophia was not even in mourning. The parlor shades were not even drawn.

"It's nice of you to come," Sophia said. "Do sit down."

"We came," Mrs. Kimball said almost reprovingly, "to tell you that our hearts are bleeding for you in your great loss."

"We know how lonely you must be out here," Mrs. Worthington said. "With nothing to take your mind off . . . off . . ." She sniffed and reached in her purse for a handkerchief.

"Oh, I keep busy," Sophia said. "I've just finished applying for the Government insurance on Tom's life."

The visiting ladies could not resist a shocked glance at one another.

"I want to get it right away," Sophia said. "So I can put it into War Bonds. My boy hasn't finished fighting yet, not by a long shot."

The ladies were so occupied with feeling horrified, so utilized by this callous behaviour in a bereaved mother—that neither of them noticed Sophia's hands. Under the folds of her clean print dress, against the seat of her chair, they were tightly clenched.

"Will my call to X-ville* delay a war call?"

Traveler: I thought maybe ordinary, personal long distance calls were out for the duration.

Operator: No, indeed! X-ville is only sixty miles away. We hardly ever have delays to near-by towns where there are no big camps or factories.

Traveler: That's fine, I do want to call, but it's not terribly important, mind you!

Operator: Believe me, we appreciate the way everybody tries to help. The operator will always tell you if others are waiting for the line. She'll ask that you limit your calls to five minutes.

*To telephone users: "X-ville" stands for any town within about 100 miles of here which is not busy with war work and not near big cantonments.

"Never mind, Sergeant. You've been doing your part; lots more'n I could, but just the same my hair's gotten grayer, and now we can enjoy our peace...touring in the car!"

"I knew we couldn't bank on any new models for a long while after this mess, so I played safe with our car...kept her engine OIL-PLATED like always, with Conoco Nth motor oil, especially to not let the engine get ruined by acid. Your old Mileage Merchant pal told me why there was no worse wartime danger than engine acid."

"Dad, I learned that too, in the service..."

"Quiet Sergeant, till I show off what I know. That acid comes from ordinary combustion, but when the car was run often and got plenty warm the acid petered out—not causing rank corrosion the way it does with the engine mostly resting. But knowing as I did that chromium-plating won't corrode easy, I could see it would check corrosion to give the engine's insides OIL-PLATING."

"A synthetic in Conoco Nth oil acts sort of like 'magnetism'...to keep OIL-PLATING fastened to inside engine surfaces—not all draining down to the crankcase even standing still. The car ran sweet bringing you back home, didn't it? Too bad some folks have got to wait months for new models, when they should've used Conoco Nth to OIL-PLATE and save their car. Let's go."

COMMENT No. 1. Folks who are forever bellyaching about rationing, Roosevelt and the New Deal, are the same folks that gripe about most everything in general. There are those who are never satisfied under any condition; they gripe about the preacher who preaches too long or the weather which is too hot or too cold, the neighbor next door may play the radio too loud or not loud enough, and that same fellow that does all the aching is the very same bird that knows it all and the other fellow is just a dope. We are inclined to believe that there are some folks that will gripe in the other world even though they may make the pearly gates. It isn't surprising, that when such a fellow kicks the bucket, his neighbors breathe a sigh of relief. The best we can do is to try to spread a little sunshine while on this earth and most of us had rather have a few flowers while living. Yes, the "chronic old grouch" is miserable himself and hopes to make all about him the same way. You don't have to be a close observer to find out folks — just deal with the public.
